

ALEXANDRIA, (D. C.)

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 25, 1832.

If an "Old Friend and Physician," who writes through the Post Office, and is probably from the country, will furnish us with his name, his communication shall be inserted.

The President of the United States has, we understand, taken his departure from Washington on a visit to the Hermitage, his residence in Tennessee.

The "Official" Paper contains the appointment, by the President, of Samuel Gwinn, to be Register of the Land Office in Mississippi. We gave the history of the case of this man in yesterday's Gazette, and have not one word of comment.

Mr. Gordon Forbes has been appointed Surveyor and Inspector of the Port of Yeocomico, (Virginia.)

General Duncan McArthur has been put in nomination by the National Republican Party of Ohio as their candidate for Governor at the ensuing election in October next.

A gentleman of high respectability in Lexington, (Ky.) writes to his friend in Louisville, (says the Journal and Focus,) that he is authorized to say, that the Hon. Charles A. Wickliffe will support the Jackson candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

Another call in Pennsylvania.—About seventy citizens of Pittsburgh, "who have heretofore honestly and zealously supported and advocated the Administration of Gen. Andrew Jackson," have called a public meeting of the People to enter their Protest against his recent Vetoes, and for the purpose of preventing his re-election.—These gentlemen emphatically say, we "do hereby, in obedience to the dictates of true patriotism, and in the discharge of a painful but imperative duty, FOREVER RENOUNCE our support of him as a Candidate for re-election."

We find in the Carlisle (Pa.) Republican, a leading Jackson paper, the following notice.—Let it be read:

"In this day's paper our readers will find the message of the President transmitted to the Senate of the United States, giving his reasons for disapproving of the Bill for re-chartering the U. States Bank, which had passed both branches of the National Legislature, and wanted only the signature of the President to become a law.

"This measure of the present Executive will certainly, in our State, be viewed with astonishment, if not with other feelings. It is well known that this was a favorite measure with Pennsylvania, and formed a leading feature of the policy warmly advocated by the friends of the present administration of our Union, and, to them, was as unexpected as it now appears strange.

"From the last message of the President it was inferred by all, that he had yielded his constitutional scruples on this point, to the settled opinions of those whose prerogative it is to adjudicate the constitutionality of our laws. In that message the President's objections to the Bank appeared to be confined to its 'present organization,' and he there, to use his own language, leaves it 'to the investigation of an enlightened people and their representatives.' This investigation, so frequently invited, has been made, and the people, through their representatives, have plainly expressed their wishes, and those wishes have received the President's Veto.

"That the citizens of Pennsylvania were warmly interested in the fate of the Bank, cannot be denied, unless the innumerable resolutions, approving of that institution, adopted by meetings in every section of our State, those of the 5th of March convention, and the resolutions unanimously adopted by our State Legislature, are all to be considered as hypocritical and unmeaning expressions of public sentiment.

"What may be the effect of this measure in Pennsylvania we shall not attempt to predict.—It is now before the people—they are honest and intelligent and it is submitted."

An Important Query.—Might it not be well for the high toned Nullifiers of the present day, to inquire how far the following decision of the Circuit Court of the United States in the trial Fries, the celebrated Pennsylvania Whiskey insurgent, might have a bearing on their case, if recourse to law were to be had against them?

"Any insurrection or rising, to resist, or prevent by force or violence, the execution of any Statute of the United States, of a general nature or national concern, under a pretence, is a levying war, within the contemplation of the constitution."—[United States vs. Fries, Cir. Ct. 1800.

And in another case in the same Court:—"It is high treason to prevent the execution of an act of Congress, by force or intimidation."—[United States vs. Mitchell, Cir. Ct.

The Lancaster (Pa.) Journal says, "We are requested to state that the Countess La Rochefoucault passed through this city on the 9th inst., on her way to visit the Rev. Mr. (formerly Prince) Gallitzin, in Cambria county. This lady is said to be well known in the District of Columbia, as she distributes her great wealth for charitable purposes."

The U. S. Schooner Experiment sailed from the Navy Yard at Washington for Norfolk on Saturday last.

The following letter written by Amos Kendall, the Fourth Auditor of the Treasury to one of the citizens of Kentucky, was handed to us a few days since, and as it relates to matters intended to have a direct bearing upon "ALL" of our elections, it will not, probably, be entirely without interest to our readers.

The interference of the federal government through its patronage, its Executive, or its officers, with state elections, has been loudly denounced by the present administration and its pensioned host. Of their sincerity, the letter given below, is one among the many illustrations. Here is a genuine letter having the signature of "Amos Kendall," the Fourth Auditor, appended to it, in his own hand writing, and also bearing his "Frank" on the outside.—Lexington Observer.

"WASHINGTON, 23d April, 1832.
DEAR SIR—I take the liberty to enclose you certain proposals which speak for themselves.—The people need only correct information, and the proposed paper will give it on THE CHEAPEST TERMS. It is intended to reach EVERY NEIGHBORHOOD IN THE UNION;—and it is peculiarly desirable that it should be circulated THROUGH ALL KENTUCKY. It will RENDER ESSENTIAL SERVICE IN ALL YOUR ELECTIONS. Will you take the trouble, for the sake of our good cause, to raise a subscription in your quarter, and make speedy return of names and MONEY?
"THE TIME FOR ACTION IS AT HAND.

"The President is well and in excellent spirits. I do not doubt that the people whom he has so honestly served, will triumphantly sustain him.

With high respect, yours truly,
AMOS KENDALL."

THREE DAYS LATER FROM ENGLAND.
The fast sailing ship Herald, Duff, arrived at this port yesterday from Liverpool, brings us Liverpool papers to the 11th June inclusive.—They furnish but little intelligence in addition to what was published last week. We subjoin a few items.—Balt. Amer.

From the Liverpool Journal, June 9.
CHOLERA.—We are happy to find that the cholera may be said to have disappeared from Liverpool. On Thursday there was no case; yesterday there was no death, but 1 new case, 3 recoveries, and only 3 remaining—total, 85 cases, 43 deaths, and 42 recoveries. The town ought to be now relieved from the inconvenience of being obliged to send out vessels without clean bills of health.

LONDON, Saturday, June 9.
(From our Correspondent.—Half past seven.)
Prices in the funds are quoted rather higher than yesterday, but very little business has been effected in any description of stock. Consols closed at 85½ for the account, and Exchequer bills at 9 to 10 premium.

It has been rumored to-day in the city, that Parliament is to close its session on the 26th instant, and that a dissolution will take place as soon after as the machinery of the new bill can be completed. Another rumor was, that Parliament will sit till the middle of July, and then be prorogued preparatory to the dissolution. The general impression is, that, at whatever period the session may be closed, no measures will be brought forward in this Parliament which may conveniently stand over till the next. Neither the Bank nor the East India question, it is conceived, can possibly be settled in a satisfactory manner under such circumstances.

No private letters have been received to day from Paris. Every one feels deeply the degradation France has suffered in such an issue as this of the revolution of 1830, and most reflecting men are prepared to expect, however tranquility may appear, for the time, to be re-established, that it must soon lead to important political consequences to the present Government of France. It is remarked here, that Louis Philippe has only to set Polignac at liberty, and place him at the head of his ministry, to put the final seal to the character of his late transactions.

Of the foreign funds, the only alteration in value has occurred in those most liable to be affected by the political changes with which France was lately threatened. This is more particularly applicable to Belgium; but includes, also, to a certain degree, the whole of the northern continental securities. The alteration is however, but slight. Belgian stock left off at 75 to 1.

Liverpool Market, June 9.—The supply of Grain has been very limited since our last report, and, though the transactions on Tuesday were not numerous, good qualities of Wheat were fully 2d per 70 lbs. higher than on that day se'night. No transactions of moment to report in bonded Wheat and Flour.

Factory Burnt.—We learn from the Dedham Patriot of yesterday that on Saturday night last the Cotton Factory owned by Capt. Chester Bugbee, and situated in Attleboro', was entirely destroyed by fire. It was first discovered about 11 o'clock, but too late to save anything except a few cotton goods, and the wheel which was fortunately preserved by seasonably hoisting the gate. The fire was supposed to have originated in the picker. The machinery was mostly new and in good repair. There was an insurance at the Washington office in Providence to the amount of $6000—which will fall short of the actual damage. Estimated loss about $10,000. This is the fourth cotton factory which has been destroyed by fire in that town since 1832.

We are glad to perceive that the Washington City Chronicle has, with a new series, resumed its old style and title, in the hands of Mr. B. H. Homan, the estimable editor of the Columbian Gazette. We once took occasion to speak in high terms, and with great sincerity, of the merits of the Chronicle, as a family paper; and we are satisfied that in its present worthy hands it will fully sustain its early character as a chaste and valuable miscellany. Mr. H. has moreover obtained the editorial aid of two of our most respectable writers; and as it is the only paper of an exclusively literary cast in the District, it deserves liberal encouragement.—Nat. Int.

N E Rum.
10 HHDS. New England Rum, landing from schr. Elizabeth and Rebecca, for sale by W. FOWLE & Co.

The cost of the Vetoes to Maryland and Baltimore.—The President's vetoes cost him only a stroke of the pen; but these sic volo's are rather more expensive to the nation, and our particular share of the cost is somewhat formidable.—While the Globe, with the rhetoric of which we gave a specimen a few days since, is extolling these acts of disinterested patriotism, and the Richmond Enquirer may be puzzling itself to find distinctions where there are no differences,—ascertaining, that is, the nationality of making the Cumberland river navigable, and at the same time keeping Back Creek unnavigable,—this splitting of hairs, like other royal pastimes, costs, in round numbers, something like $650,000,—a large fraction above half a million,—to the good people of Baltimore and Maryland. Thus, we lose $29,000 by the failure of the intended appropriation to Back Creek, and $25,000 from the go-by given to the bill for improving our harbor. United States Bank-stock has been depreciated 89 per share by the Veto; and as Maryland very recently owned 40,000 shares, she nets a loss, as the merchant's phrase is, of $360,000 by this brief operation. The bill for paying interest on the moneys advanced by the States, would have given to Maryland not less than $250,000. Metaphysicians are harmless people enough; not so metaphysical politicians; theirs is a costly casuistry; and half a million a veto is dear enough for the article.—Balt. Put.

The effects of the Veto.—We learn from Cincinnati, that within two days after the veto reached the city, building bricks fell from five dollars to three dollars per thousand! A general consternation is represented to have pervaded the city.

An intelligent friend of Gen. Jackson, who left Cincinnati on Monday, states, as the opinion of the best informed men there, that the veto has caused a depreciation of the real estate in the city, of from twenty-five to thirty-three and a third per cent.—Maysville Eagle.

Obituary.—A letter from Norfolk, dated the 22d instant, informs of the death of Mrs. SOUTHGATE, consort of Mr. John Southgate, of that place, and daughter of the late Marcus McCausland, Esq. of Baltimore. On Wednesday last (says the letter) she accompanied her son on board the steamboat Potomac, where she took leave of him. She was then in perfect health—but returning about twelve o'clock, fell down, while taking off her bonnet, in a fit caused by a sudden attack of paralysis of the brain. Surgical aid was immediately afforded, but she died on Friday evening."

Therefore, on every consignments of Wool forwarded to him, the utmost exertions will be made to promote the interest of his consignors. His time being devoted entirely to the article, and having had many years experience in the business, he flatters himself that he can render more satisfactory sales, than persons unacquainted with the value and various grades and qualities of the article.—He is weekly furnished by regular correspondents in Boston and New York, with a Price Current, and correct information of the value in those markets; and whenever better prices can be obtained there, he has made arrangements with experienced and responsible houses in those cities, to receive and dispose of any consignments which he may have orders to forward to those places.
